The Three-Year Graduation Rate is the percentage of first-time, full-time degree/certificate seeking students enrolled for credit on the 15th day of the fall entry term who complete a degree or certificate by the end of August of the third year. Three-year graduation rates of first-time college students are reported to the Department of Education Integrated Postsecondary Enrollment Data System (IPEDS).

Student populations excluded from the data: part-time students, transfer students, high school students, and all other students who were not reported in the cohorts as first-time, full-time degree/certificate seeking students in the fall terms identified in the chart.
